Testimonial for The missing piece

I came to know what an image consultant can do to your personality and looks, only after I took Neha's expertise and help in picking up few outfits for me for a function. Neha came to me like an angel, and helped me to create a complete and beautiful look with appropriate accessories for every outfit.

She has an amazing sense of colours and a keen eye for what will best suit her client. She will definitely introduce you some unusual colours which you thought were not meant for you.

She very meticulously and confidently can make you understand what fits you the best. Shopping with her is so quick and not monotonous, as she exactly knows what to look for.

Thank you Neha for this experience and I would definitely recommend you to all those who are looking for some interesting changes in their wardrobes or personality.

Wishing you all the success
